Gearhouse Broadcast deliver broadcast installations at Al-Khor and Al-Wakrah Stadia

International broadcast solutions provider Gearhouse Broadcast has completed delivery of permanent broadcast facilities at two sports stadia, Al-Khor and Al-Wakrah in Doha, Qatar. The project was commissioned by AV Tech on behalf of the Qatar National Olympic Committee.

The Doha stadium's have both recently been upgraded and in this process each was fitted out with a new studio, commentary boxes and a TV Room for outside broadcast vehicles to connect into. Gearhouse Broadcast was tasked with putting in the entire broadcast infrastructure comprising a TV Room integration and Wall Box and Cable installations throughout both stadiums.

At the planning and consultancy stage Systems Integrator Gearhouse Broadcast carried out two site surveys to survey each of the stadium venues and agree cable routes. Broadcaster Al Jazeera was consulted in relation to the broadcasting equipment specifications and with regards to the locations and configurations of wall boxes. High definition technologies were specified for the distribution and monitoring systems in the TV Room where Gearhouse Broadcast engineers selected the most fit for purpose manufacturers and products. The equipment chosen has previously been installed by Gearhouse Broadcast in other stadiums like Qatar Sports Club, Al Saad and Al Arabi. The distribution and monitoring systems were built in Gearhouse Broadcast's UK Head Quarters and shipped out to Doha for installing.
